

THE LILLY PROJECT FOR THE EXPLORATION OF VOCATION

Contemplation □ Commitment

When human beings dwell within their connection to nature, to heaven and earth, then they know how to nurture their environment and to rule their world — which is saying the same thing.

(inspired by Chögyam Trungpa, Shambhala, “Sacred World”)

VALUES STATEMENT

In all programs associated with The College of Wooster Lilly Project and in Lilly House, we RESPECT the inherent dignity of each person and honor religious and cultural diversity.

EMBRACE a spirit of hospitality, compassion, service, collaboration, and justice in our personal and professional interactions.

RECOGNIZE and SUPPORT the value of fostering the potential of each person through lifelong vocational exploration.

VALUE a safe environment that is nurturing to the whole person.

STRIVE to be good stewards of our financial and environmental resources.

An adaptation of the Campus Mission Statement from the Burlingame Sisters of Mercy, with gratitude for their compassionate vision.
