

RUSSIAN STUDIES

FACULTY:

Beth Ann Muellner, Chair (German Studies)

Tatiana Filimonova

Michael Furman

Olesya Taran (Language Assistant)

Russian Studies is an interdisciplinary area focused on Russia and Eastern Europe in cultural, literary, historical, philosophical, and political contexts. It is one of several programs at the College that provides students with the opportunity to develop proficiency in a foreign language in connection with their other academic and professional interests. The department offers courses in three areas: 1) Russian language, 2) Russian culture, and 3) Russian literature. These, together with courses in history and comparative literature, give students a strong background in Russia and Eastern Europe.

Recent graduates in Russian Studies have embarked on employment in government service, non-governmental organizations, and private companies, both in the United States and abroad. Some have gone on to graduate school, pursuing careers in such areas as law, education, library science, and academia. Recent graduates have also served in the Peace Corps in the former Soviet Union

Special Notes

- The College language requirement may be satisfied in Russian by completing a 102-level course or receiving a score equivalent to the 102-level on the placement examination administered during registration week. If a student registers for and completes a course in language below the level at which the language department's placement exam placed him or her, that student will not receive credit toward graduation for that course, unless he or she has obtained the permission of the instructor of the course into which the student placed and permission of the department chair.
- Study Abroad: Students will be encouraged to enhance their educational experience (or fulfill requirements for a major in International Relations) by studying in Russia or East Central Europe, and are advised to consult with the chairperson of the department in the first term of their first year of study at the College. Early planning is essential for the CIEE program in St. Petersburg, as well as for other programs such as American Councils Study Abroad in Vladimir. Approved courses taken in an off-campus semester will provide additional variety in the courses offered for the major

- Russian House: Students have the opportunity to apply for residence in Russian House, a suite in Luce Hall that houses students along with a native Russian assistant and serves as the focal point for most campus Russian language and cultural activities. Applications for residency in the Russian House can be obtained from the chair and are usually due early in the spring semester.
- Related Interdepartmental Programs: Students interested in Russian and East Central European literature and culture should be aware of several interdepartmental programs in which the Department of Russian Studies cooperates: Comparative Literature, Film Studies, and International Relations.
- S/NC courses are not permitted in the major or minor.
- Only grades of C- or better are accepted for the major or minor.

RUSSIAN STUDIES COURSES

An introduction to understanding, speaking, reading, and writing Russian; acquisition of basic grammar; conversational practice and short readings. Cultural content. Five hours per week.

RUSS 10200. BEGINNING RUSSIAN (LEVEL II)

Continuation of RUSS 10100, with increased emphasis on conversational, reading, and writing skills. Cultural content. Prerequisite: RUSS 10100 or placement.

HIST 10100-10136. INTRODUCTION TO HISTORICAL INVESTIGATION

(when topic focuses on Russian history)

RUSS 20100. INTERMEDIATE RUSSIAN (LEVEL III)

Review and enhancement of basic grammar; practice through speaking, listening, reading, and writing. Attention to reading strategies. Exposure to cultural material. Four hours per week. Prerequisite: RUSS 10200 or placement.

RUSS 20200. INTERMEDIATE RUSSIAN (LEVEL IV)

Continuation of RUSS 20100, with still greater emphasis on speaking, reading, and writing. Cultural content. Prerequisite: RUSS 20100.

RUSS 21000. RUSSIAN CIVILIZATION: FROM FOLKLORE TO PHILOSOPHY (Comparative Literature)

An introductory and interdisciplinary study of fundamental aspects of Russian culture from medieval Russia through the post-Soviet era, with emphasis on the changing and evolving concept of Russian identity over the centuries. A broad range of texts will include folktales, memoirs, fiction, painting, poetry, philosophy, music and film.

RUSS 22000. RUSSIAN CULTURE THROUGH FILM (Comparative Literature, Film Studies)

An introduction to twentieth-century Russian society and culture through the medium of cinema, covering the immediate pre- and post-revolutionary periods, Stalinism, the post-Stalin "thaw," stagnation under Brezhnev, Gorbachev's "perestroika" and "glasnost," and the post-communist era. Weekly screenings of films will be supplemented with readings in Russian film theory and criticism.

RUSS 24000. IMAGINING RUSSIA (Siberia)

Russia is the largest country in the world, occupying more than 10 percent of the world's landmass. Russian culture is best understood through the study of its diverse spaces: the cities and the countryside, Europe and Asia, sublime mountains, vast plains and endless forests. This course focuses on geo-political and cultural space as reflected in Russian literature, film, music, and visual arts. Students explore setting and imagined geography by drawing connections between literary and cinematic text and cultural, historical, and geographical space. In alternate years, the course will focus on the following topics: Siberia, Moscow and St. Petersburg, The Urals and The Caucasus. *May be repeated once for credit. Environmental credit granted upon completion of relevant final project.

RUSS 25000-25001. RUSSIAN LITERATURE IN THE AGE OF DOSTOEVSKY AND TOLSTOY (Comparative Literature)

In the nineteenth century, Russia witnessed an unprecedented explosion of literary and intellectual activity, a renaissance which yielded some of the greatest masterpieces world literature has seen. Our course will examine the seven most prominent authors of this period, with special emphasis on Russia's unique handling of the sudden influx of European philosophy and culture (Rationalism, Idealism, Romanticism, Atheism, Socialism). Through its literary canon, we will explore how Russia envisioned the problems of modern individualism in a culture divided between European and Slavic roots.

RUSS 26000. THE ARTIST AND THE TYRANT: TWENTIETH-CENTURY RUSSIAN LITERATURE (Comparative Literature)

Russian literature developed side by side with the myths and horrors of a cataclysmic twentieth century. In this course, we will read some of the most powerful artistic meditations on the collapse of imperial Russia, on the dream and nightmare of the Soviet experiment, and on the search for dignity and meaning in the post-Soviet contemporary world. Authors include Nobel laureates Pasternak, Bunin, Solzhenitsyn and Brodsky. We will also read novels by Bulgakov and Nabokov, short stories from a host of writers from Babel to Petrushevskaya, and some of the major poetry of the era in translation.
